let's put it into the study as well.

in midlife we can often be prey to unresolved feelings that come home to roost when we feel vulnerable and out of control