Dr. Zachary often uses these fillers in combination with other cosmetic procedures such as undermining the scar with a tiny blade or needle, a process called subcision.